Ysabela's portfolio captures her practicum experience in both words and pictures. Artefacts of student work, activities and photographs paint a rich picture of our diverse community. Ysabela is a consummate student always documenting her observations and asking deep and introspective questions that show her passion for learning and openness to new ideas.

Ysabela's active engagement in the work of the school to support student learning is evident in the examples she provided in her portfolio. Her participation in staff meetings shows her commitment to collaboration and teamwork, and her willingness to learn about school safety drills highlights her dedication to student safety. This dedication was clear when Ysabela was in the staff room at lunch, when the school went into "Lockdown". Ysabela immediately went to the hall and shepherded more than a dozen students into the safety of the staff room. Students were panicked and in distress. There was some confusion surrounding the "Lockdown", when it changed to a "Hold and Secure", but in keeping with protocols, Ysabela kept the students calm and safe until administration gave the all clear.

Ysabela's involvement in art club and her help with field trips demonstrates her commitment to extra-curricular activities and enriching the learning experiences of your students. Ysabela shows a wide range of artistic skills when teaching the students, including watercolour, photography, photoshop, and drawing. Ysabela shows a willingness to improve and adapt her teaching practices.

To further support and continue your learning and achievement in the upcoming term, I suggest continuing to focus on setting clear learning objectives for your lessons, using differentiated instruction to address the diverse learning needs of your students, and seeking regular feedback from your colleagues and students.

Notes to Mentor Teachers and Teacher Candidates

What documentation will be required for successful completion of the practicum?

- A Teacher Candidate (TC) in EDPR2000 will be responsible for conferencing with the Mentor Teacher (MT) throughout the semester to discuss progress relative to the Learning Outcomes for the semester, update the Mentor Teacher on the status of the Portfolio of Documented Evidence, share concerns, address challenges, set personal objectives, and plan next steps in support of the TC's achievement of the learning objectives during the semester. Ongoing conferencing between MT and TC ensures that the TC is on track for successful completion. For TCs who may be deemed at-risk, both MT and TC should contact the York Practicum Facilitator and review the Mentoring & Teaching Resource Room (MTRR) for information <http://mtrr.blog.yorku.ca/practicum-resources/teacher-candidates-who-are-at-risk/>.
- Creation of a Portfolio of Documented Evidence is required (electronic or hard copy). The Portfolio should be viewed and assessed as evidence of the process of achieving the learning outcomes rather than as a culminating project or product.
- At the end of EDPR2000, the Mentor Teacher and Teacher Candidate will confer to create the MT/TC Conferencing Report. The TC and MT should each retain a copy. The Mentor Teacher is asked to email a copy to the Practicum Facilitator.

What is the rationale for this type of assessment?

- Today's TCs are the teachers of tomorrow. They will be responsible for self-assessing their professional practice and their learning needs for professional growth and development. It is important that teacher candidates begin this process of self-assessment from the first day of practicum.
- The Ontario Ministry of Education's (2010) Growing Success document lists guiding principles that apply equally well to teacher education. The Portfolio of Documented Evidence supported by ongoing conferencing with the Mentor Teacher respects these principles of assessment by ensuring that the process leads to enhanced and expanded understandings and achievement of the learning outcomes in a manner that meets the "interests, learning styles and preferences, needs, and experiences" (p. 6) of all TCs. To this end Mentor Teachers are asked to "provide ongoing descriptive feedback that is clear, specific, meaningful, and timely to support improved learning and achievement" (p. 6) throughout the semester and to encourage TCs to develop "self-assessment skills to enable them to assess their own learning, set specific goals, and plan next steps for their learning" (p. 6).
- As learners who are developing their self-assessment skills, Teacher Candidates require ongoing support and guidance from Mentor Teachers whose experience and mentorship instills confidence in the learner, affirms the TC's growing understandings, provides support to address challenges, and guides next steps for continued development.
